Creating Hope HA's Commitment to Research

In 2009, the Hydrocephalus Association (HA) launched the first ever Hydrocephalus Strategic Research Initiative. The initiative seeks to stimulate the research ecosystem, improve clinical outcomes and quality of life for patients, and advance the study of root causes. To date, $1.2 million has been invested in research to carry out the agency's mission to eliminate the challenges of hydrocephalus through this initiative.

Implementation of the Hydrocephalus Strategic Research Initiative will catalyze a national effort to improve treatments and outcomes—and eventually find a cure for hydrocephalus. To learn more about HA's commitment, visit
